RICHARD CROKER'S FIRST TURF VICTORY.

OPENING OF THE LLIZABETH RACES - DON

ALONZO CANTERS IN-KINGSTON BEATEN. Under the protection of the new racing laws, the New Jersey Jockey Club opened its spring meeting at the Elizabeth track yesterday as sedately, as seronely, quietly and as successfully as could be desired after as quietly and as successfully as countries on the Porichester two years of imaction. Seventy-one bookmakers put up Boltzo Bory West, es in the ring, and the attendance was of generous proportions, but there was placifully no betting, as the the were content to wait a day or two to "get a has on the horses. Not one person in 500 who ent to the course expected either Kinzston, Yorkville pelle, Red Banner or Don Alonzo to start, and great was the amazement when all except Red Banner appeored! Poor old Kingston. It was too bad to let lim, half fit, be disgraced by cattle from Guttenberg! He could run only half a mile. Then he stopped for Yorkville Belle, more beautiful than ever, ran in the second race, and after it was finished Richard Croker was informed that his Yale blue jacket was detorious in its first encounter. It struck many close observers as strange that the first appearance of the colors and the horse of the Ruler of New York elicited no applause, not even a hand-clap.

Yorkville Belle was the last off to a fair start, which was made after a delay of ten minutes. White Rose led as the flag fell, and Doggett took her along at rapid pace, soon getting clear of his field. Crotchet Virgie fell far to the rear. The Belle seemed in indiculties when the turn was reached, as Lambley was riding vigorously with his hands, but before the ad of the stretch was passed it was apparent tha she had the race at her mercy. Before reaching the furlong post the Belle took the lead under a and began to loaf. White Rose fell back, giving way to Strathmaid, who closed with the favorite, causing intense excitement among the spectators and forcing Lambley to ride again. After a gentle shaking up the Belle came away and won in a canter After a gentle by a length, Strathmaid second, three lengths before

Mr. Rowe was a triffe nervous and kept the horses in the first race at the post twenty five minutes, missing two good starts. An excellent start was eventually made, Bel Demonio getting away slightly in front of the others, who were closely bunched. Kington was third. There was no delay on the part of Each was anxious to score the first success of the season, and all began riding from the exart with might and main. Skadi passed Bel Demonio on the turn and led into the stretch, where Kingston came through, on the rail, and Teano crept up on the outside. At the last eighth post all were driving. Taral here succeeded in getting up with Walcott, who, joining the leaders fifty yards from the finish, was literally lifted in winner by a neck. Bel Demonio, second, beat Terrifler a head. Lord Harry was a close fourth.

Frieze was withdrawn from the third race. After delay of fifteen minutes, owing principally to the over-carefulness of Mr. Rowe, a good start was made, Azrael leading, Long Bounce in the rear. Azrael remained in front for a quarter, when he was joined by Hoey and Sir Richard. St. Hubert, a counterfeit fell back out of sight. Alcalde, full of running, was restrained by a choking pull till all his ambition vanished, but under a drive in the stretch he finished strong, forcing Sir Richard to do his best to win by a length and a half. Alcalde best Azrael two

Mr. Croker declined to expose Red Banner in th ourth race, so she was withdrawn, as were Shelley Tuttle and Warren, reducing the field to three. Don Alonzo got off slightly in front, but Prince George passed him immediately and remained in the lead till half way down the stretch, when Don Alonzo strode over him, his head high in the nir, and without hurry or bustle won, pulling up, by a length, Prince George three lengths before Mohammed.

The Inverwick filly fell at the post, hurting her rider, J. Lambley, so badly that he had to be carried to the paddock in a man's arms. She was in the starter's hands when the accident happened, so there was no new book. After her withdrawal there was a delay of twenty minutes at the post, and when the flag fell the field was scattered all over the course. the Miss Thomas filly being almost left. Meddler, bentinel, Chateau and Hymn were always in the front division, and in the stretch the race lay between them. The well-seasoned Guttenburger, Hymn, wore down the soft youngsters of the millionaires, and won cleverly by a length and a half. Meddler second, half a length before Chateau. Zenobla easily captured the last race.

The Woodlawn Vase was put on exhibition in a safe place within the judges' stand inclosure. It is likely to remain the property of the Dwyers for many years happiness.

New horses come on the turf annually, but among the crowds who go to look at and bet on them the same old eager, anxious, searching faces are seen. some of those faces seem to look tougher and more haggard every Year.

With regret it was noticed that Guttenburg was here, there and everywhere. Even the air was laden with a Guttenburg odor. But Guttenburg soon found itself outclassed.

with a Gattenburg odor. But Gattenburg soon found itself outclassed.

Adolf Nelson, younger than ever, though just beyond the half century post, was one of the most successful plungers of the day, and in his good-humored way he invited everybody to go to his Cortlandest, resisurant for dinner. As the invitation is standing, the house will be kept open every evening. An unpleasant fog blew in from the bay, burying the course in mist till it was impossible to distinguish clearly the colors of the lockeys on the upper turn.

Metrath has the resisurant and bar privileges. Egan is in charge of the ring. There were seventy-one bookmakers at the first drawing. "Eut for the scare about De Lacy and the police," he said, "there would have been 100. If we have no trouble between this and the second drawing 100 will certainly go on."

John Hunter, president of the Board of Control, and Philip J. Dwyer looked at the races from the clubbouse balcony.

Golonel R. W. Simmons and Clarence McDowell occupied the judge's stand with their accustomed ability.

"Mike" Dwyer was credited with winning hand-somety on Don Alonzo. The public backed Prince

NOTES ABOUT TURF AFFAIRS.

J. G. Follansbee, who is in San Francisco, expects to start for New-York next week. F. Remincton and W. Harper, of this city, paid a visit to his ranch in Mexico. All three of them met on accident on the way to the rainch. To reach the home of Mr. Follan-bee in Mexico 240 miles are made in wagons. The waxon was hauled by six horses. The horses were frightened at some object and ran away, upsetting the wagon and bruising the occupants severely. The Eurl of Ava, the eldest son of Lord Dufferin, enjoyed a few weeks of spott, hunting with Mr. Follansbee to work horses with suspicious logs. Hordy Campbell said that it gave way from under a horse's feet when moving at a racing pace, and that the Brooklyn track suited Longstreet much better than the track at Ellrabeth. Captain Babcock says that the Linden track is in ex-cellent shape. When asked why he did not secure a license for Linden he said: "I fined the wrong church." White Rese ran the first half mile in the second race in 1834 seconds.

The Juttenburg crowd was in great gies, as three of the races were won by outlaws.

The order will affect the postal service in almost every large city in the United States, especially in Boston, where the Department has limited the carrier service and the appropriation, which makes it impossible to put an extra carrier on if they want to. It is more than probable that the new order will have a disastrous ffect on the service in the city of Boston and in the districts, for the reason that a number of carriers

BILL CURTAILING THE POWERS OF THE MAYOR OF BUFFALO. FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE SRIBUNE.

Albany, April 13.-Lieutenant-Governor Sheenan packed his carpet-bag and started for Washington this afternoon to keep his appointment made President Cleveland last week to return and talk over The members of the Paint, Oli and Varnish Club the New-York State appointments. Mr. Sheehan's threw aside the cares of their trade last evening carper-bag, it is understood, is filled with applications and went to the Broadway Central Hotel, where for office, indorsed by Roswell P. Flower, David B.

The information also will come to President Cleveland that Governor Flower signed this bill depriving Mayor Bishop of one of his greatest powers within three hours after it passed the Legislature. No warning was given to the people or the au thorities of Buffale of this attack upon them. A bill permitting the city to issue school bonds was sud-denly amended and passed in twenty minutes. There was thus a conspiracy by Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan, Speaker Sulzer and Governor Flower to rob the Mayor of Buffalo of one of his chief powers. Governor Flower's complicity in the theft Is obvious; for otherwise he would have held the bill for several days before acting upon it, and in the mean time would have informed Mayor Bishop of the existence of the bill and allowed him an opportunity to Nevertheless Mr. Flower's action does not surpriany one, for his hostlifty to President Cleveland and his Administration has been obvious throughout the present session. The appointments to offices having political power have been exclusively given to ant Cleveland Democrats. Mr. Flower was clear sighted. He saw that there must eventually be a death grappl crats of the State, and he has decided to use all his great influence as Executive upon the side of the appearants of the President. He appointed Frederick Schraub, a bending anti-Cleveland Democrat, Lowville, as Dairy Commissioner, and now has had the Democratic Legislature pass a bill which immensely becreases Mr. Schranb's powers, putting him at the head of the new Agricultural Department. The "Assistant Dairy Commissioners"-and there are about a dozen of them-rove over the entire State. They are political agents, in fact, and not officials of the state. In Mr. schranh's hands are put all the various bureaus which have been created to aid the arming interests. Mr. Schranb was a delegate to th Demo-ratic National Convention, and signed the paper declaring that Grover Cleveland could not possibly carry the State of New-York.

The reappednment of Charles M. Preston as Super intendent of the Banking Department was another act of the same nature by Governor Flower. Mr. also was a delegate to the Democrati National Convention, and he also declared that Grove: Cleveland could not carry this State.

As a trustee of the public buildings, also, Governo Flower has disclosed his hostility to Mr. Cleveland's friends; a score of Cleveland Democrats who held places in the State Capitol having been dismissed.

THE ACT DENOUNCED IN BUFFALO.

Entialo, April 13 (special).- The bill revolutionizing the Emfalo city government, which came to light at Albany to-day after it had been sneaked through the Legislature and signed by Governor Flower, is creating a sencation here. It takes the Police Department out of the central of Mayor Bishop, a Cleveland Democrat, and puts it in the hands of Controller Gavin and James Hanrahan, president of the Common Council, both of whom are sheehan men. It also takes the Mayor out of the Board, of which he has been heretofore a member. Mayor Eishop, it may be explained has never been subject to shechan's orders. The

TO LEGALIZE THE CELEBRATION BILLS. Albany, April 13 (Special).-Governor Flower told

Senators McCarren and McCarty, of Brooklyn, at his dinner on Tuesday night, that he thought an act could be passed which would permit the auditing of the bills incurred at the time of the Columbian cele bration which would meet with his approval. Almet V. Jenks was informed of this, and came here from Prooflyn. Two bills were introduced to day by Sen-ator McCarty to carry out this idea of Governor Flower's. One creates a commission to audit the Kings County bills, and the other legalizes the Erooklyn bills for the Columbian celebration. Probably Mr. Flower wishes to make peace with Hugh McLaughn. The bills were ordered to third reading.

Mr. Quizley, the Democratic leader, introduced in Assembly this morning by ununimous consent a till providing for the appeintment of a commission to consist of the Mayor, Auditor and Controller of Froeklyn to anost the accounts of the committee in charge of the celebration. At his request the bill was made a special order for next Monday night.

DEMOCRATIC HOSTILITY TO THE REGENTS. Albany, April 13 (special).-The opposition of the Demo ratio machine to the State Board of Regents was brought out forcidy in the Assembly this morning the state Geologist, in effice. The bill was sneaked through the Senate under false representations. It takes away from the Regents the power to appoint the official, and turns it over to the Governor, thereby for the first time in its history making this department a branch of a political machine. Mr. Malby of fair and cooler weather. under the clock of a bill to continue Professor Hall.

fered a number of amendments that would have con tinued Professor Hall in office, but would also have taken the politics out of the bill. The Democrats on the floor would not permit the amendments to be adopted, and passed the bill.

THE POOL BILL A SPECIAL ORDER. THE COMMITTEE ON RULES VOTES TO TAKE IT

UP THIS MORNING. Albany, April 13 (Special).-There was a rather hard time in the Committee on Rules list night. The committee met to make certain measures special first to come up was the Saxton Pool bill, which is intended to shut up every poolroom in the state. Mr. Prescott, who introduced the bill in the Assembly, had sent a request to the committee to make the bill a special order for to day. The mem bers of the committee are Speaker Sulzer. Quicley, the Democratic leader: Mr. Malby, Mr. Fish and Colonel Webster. It was thought, from the tener of Mr. Croker's telegram to Timothy D. Sullivan on Tuesday, in which he insisted that the bill should be passed immediately, that there would not be the elightest objection to making the measure a special order for to-day, and it was thought that this course would be pursued. But to the surprise of the members present sudden opposition to making the bitl a special order for any day tids week came from the Speaker and Colonel Webster. After Mr. Sulzer's extremely honest course yes terday, when he put the Assembly in the order of ported, this came as a double surprise to the real friends of the bill. Mr. Sulzer and Colonel Webster wanted the bill to go over until some day next week. Why they wanted t'is delay on a measure of such vital importance, and against which one of the largest corruption funds that ever has com-Albany is being used, they alone can tell. It is not intended to charge any one with doing anything unfair or wrong in connection with this bill, but people who mean to be careful of their reputations cannot afford even to pretend to put obstacles in the way of its passage. No one knows what the result will be if the Assembly does not pass this bill before the recess for the week. There have been times when a sudden change has come over people between Friday afternoon and Monday night.

It is fortunate for the decent people of the State that there are three members of the Committee on Rules who would not permit any delay in putting the bill on its final passage. They are Mr. Nalby, the Republican leader: Mr. Fish and Mr. Quigley, the Democratic leader. These three men held tegether for right and morality and voted to make the bill a special order for to-morrow, It was on Mr. Malby's motion that this was done. If the bill is not passed to-morrow morning there will be one of the most exciting times in the Assembly that ever has occurred. The best men in the House are all for the bill they intend to see that it passes. Of erwise legislation will go through from this time on.

LIVELY HEARING ON THE ELM-ST. BILL. STRONG OPPOSITION TO IT DEVELOPED IN THE

SUNATE CITIES COMMITTEE. Albany, April 13.-The Senate Cities Committee gave a lively hearing this afternoon on the Elm-st. Opening Mil. Among those present opposing the bill were Leo Schlessinger, John Mayes, Louis Raegener, John Hawley, Myer Foster, John C. Shaw and As-semblyman Kempner. Mr. Kempner charged that the bill had been passed through the Assembly by pre-meditated fraud on the members and on the people of the State. He asked the committee to send the bill back with a message that it had not been properly passed.

The committee said that it could not go back of the record, and asked Mr. Kempner why he did not move to reconsider the vote by which the bill was passed. Mr. Kempner replied that he had been trying to do so without success. Mr. Hayes made a vigor us speech against the bill, saying that it was general in its provisions and an outrage on property-owners What's that?" said Senator Brown, chairman of the committee, "you say it is a general bill?"
"Yes, sir," shouted Mr. Hayes.

"If that is so," said Senator Brown, "the matter has been misrepresented to me and I will not vote

James A. Deering, representing the city, rose to explain. Do you take this property without notice a soon as the resolution is passed?" asked Senator

"Yes, vest outrage: usurpation of rights," cried the opponents of the bill. "Then you may put me down against it. I won't tee for it," said Senator Endres. The committee took no action on the bill.

TO REPORT A RAPID TRANSIT BILL. Albany, April 13.-The Senate Railroad Committee gave a hearing this afternoon on Senator Brown's New-York Rapid Transit bill. There was no opposition and the committee decided to report the bill favorably.

A CLERICAL FRAUD ARRESTED IN FALL RIVER. be a clerical imposter was arrested here to-day. He gives his name as John Lefelvre, and is about sixty years of age. He went to the parochial residence of the Dominican Fathers of st. Anne's Church, and represented himself as being the superior of a college of Oblate Fathers at Montreal, who had been shipwrecked on his way to Canada from the Haytlan Islands.

The fathers of the parochial residence entertained him, but during the night became suspicious of him. He was then accused of being an impostor, and was finally locked up,
